BUSINESS PICKS UP IN CIRCUIT COURT

Divorce Suit is Filed and an Action to Collect on a Note Are Two New Suits Today

OTHER MATTERS TAKEN UP

Evidence Heard in Two Suits This Morning and Stout vs Brown Case is Sent to Hancock Co.

Two new suits were filed in circuit court today and this morning several minor cases were disposed of, without the services of the jury. One new case was a divorce action and the other case a complaint on an account and note.

Emmett McGwinn this morning filed suit for divorce from Dora McGwinn, charging her with unfaithfulness and with failure to prepare a suitable home.

The complaint states that they were married in March 1910 and separated on November 26 of this year. He states that he had given her the right to use his checking account at the bank, with the agreement that she would not spend money only for things that she would tell him about, and he charges her with violating the agreement.

He also states that on the 27 of November, the day following their separation, she issued a check for the amount of $200. He states further that "she did not care for their home and when importuned to save their home, said to him—'with the home'". He alleges that she frequently cursed him, and that she was guilty of associating with other men, whose names he did not know.

The Inland Motor Sales Corporation of Connersville has filed a suit against Alva D. Eakins, on a complaint on a note and account. The suit is in two paragraphs, the first being to collect on a note for the amount of $215 which was issued on November 3, 1919 and due on March 1, 1920. The other paragraph is to collect on a bill of goods, which the plaintiff alleges is due them. The amount asked for in this paragraph is $70.48. Both parts also seek judgment for costs and attorney fees.

This morning judgment was found for the plaintiff Charles C. Jeffrey-Smith against the two defendants, Edgar Archey and Samuel A. Colter in the sum of $36.54 and costs. The defendants defaulted. The case was to collect on an account. Jeffrey-Smith formerly was in the garage business at Milroy, but is now in business at Greensburg.

Will Y. Stout, who recently filed suit for damage for breach of contract against Oliver N. Brown, petitioned the court for a change of venue and the case was sent to Hancock county. Judgment is asked in the sum of $295 in this case.

Judgment this morning was awarded Sharer and Moore, a hardware firm in Chicago, against Joseph Hardin in the sum of $129.37 and costs. The suit was brought to collect on a note which was alleged to be overdue. The judgment was reached by agreement this morning in court.

N. R. Farlow, as executor of the estate of Washington Farlow, dismissed his action this morning in the circuit court against his brother, John D. Farlow. The suit was an action for damages and appointment of a receiver. The plaintiff dismissed and paid the costs in the case. These two parties also were involved in a suit yesterday at Shelbyville, sent there on a change of venue from this county.

ILL WITH PERITONITIS

Mrs. Earl H. Payne was taken to the Dr. J. C. Sexton hospital today, suffering with peritonitis, and her condition is regarded as extremely serious.

WAGES REDUCED 10 PERCENT

Rubber Company Announces That Salaries Must Come Down

(By United Press)
Akron, Ohio, Nov. 30.—Fire Stone Tire and Rubber have announced a ten percent reduction in salaries.

"We have given careful consideration to every phase of the present economical situation," said a statement issued by that company. "Conditions have necessitated a reduction in every line of production. Salaries came last, but this could not be expected." The company also reduced the dividend rates from $2.00 to $1.50 per share a quarter.

DISCUSS PLANS FOR STATE HEADQUARTERS

Executive Committee of American Legion Will Present Plans to The State Legislature

STATE MEMORIAL BUILDING

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 30.—Means by which the city of Indianapolis and Marion county can cooperate with the state in erecting a war memorial building here for use as national headquarters of the American Legion and other patriotic bodies were to be discussed here today by the executive committee of the Indiana department of the legion.

When the state legislature provided a tax levy designed to raise $2,000,000 and the transfer of the state school for the blind in this city for the new building, the city and county tried to get other legislation approved by the law makers enabling them to help. This is expected to be undertaken again at the legislature when it meets in January as a result of the meeting today.

Another matter confronting the executive committee is the final approval of a bill to be presented to the assembly legalizing boxing contests in the state. The bill was defeated by a sub-committee and was to be put before the full committee today for consideration.

The committee also will take up other bills to be placed before the legislature the nature of which has not been made public.

FEWER FUR BEARING ANIMALS PENNED UP

Game Wardens See in This Evidence of Better Understanding of State Law on Subject

WHAT CUSTOM FORMERLY WAS

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 30.—Game wardens of the state department of conservation who report finding far less skunks and other small furbearers penned up this year than usual prior to the open season, seen in this evidence, that there is a better understanding of the law against keeping fur-bearing animals in captivity in this state. In the past it was frequently the custom for persons to catch these animals in the fall and closed season and hold them until early winter when the fur is prime.

Indiana game laws prohibit the taking of fur-bearers in closed or protected seasons. It is lawful to catch kunks and other fur-bearers in the open season, but if it is planned to hold them for propagating purposes, it is necessary at the start of the closed season to procure a certificate from the state department to show that the fur-bearers are being held in captivity for fur farming. Such fur farms so designated by the certificates are at frequent intervals inspected by officials from the division of fish and game.

MOVES TO THIS CITY

Dr. and Mrs. M. L. McKee, of Marion, Ind., is moving here and will occupy the Banta property, corner of Morgan and Fifth streets.

RUSH COUNTY WILL CASE IS SETTLED

Jury is Impanelled at Shelbyville When John Farlow is Given $5,000 by Agreement

INVOLVED $30,000 IN LAND

Case Was Over Will of Late Washington Farlow in Which Two Brothers Quarrelled

The suit to contest the will of the late Washington Farlow, which was filed by John D. Farlow, a son, against Nathan Farlow, another son as executor of the estate, came to an abrupt ending yesterday in the Shelby circuit court where it was sent on a change of venue from this county. The suit was compromised, with the agreement that the plaintiff was to receive $5,000.

The two sons of the late Washington Farlow started the suit in this court shortly after the father died, which was on December 31, 1919. Two suits were filed by the plaintiff, one to contest the will and the other for the partition and sale of the real estate. The will of the deceased left practically everything to the favored son, and considered John D. Farlow an outcast.

The estate over which the suits were filed involved 147½ acres of land in the western part of the county, valued at $30,000.

A special venire was drawn in Shelby county to try the case and the jury was obtained about noon. When the opening statements were about ready to be made, the defendant offered a compromise and the case was settled by granting the defendant $5,000.

No case attracted as much attention in recent months as the will case did, and each side was represented in the court room with four law firms apiece, most of them being from Rushville.

The defense had over 60 witnesses summoned and had the case gone through, it would have required three weeks of steady work to have concluded the evidence.

An attempt was made before the trial to have the two complaints combined for hearing with the same evidence, but this motion was overruled by the court.

The jury which had been impanelled to hear the case was discharged after the attorneys announced that they had reached an agreement.

INJURED MEN ARE IN SERIOUS CONDITION

Noah Matlock and Louis Stark Are Held Under Influence of Medicine to Relieve Pain

BUILDING FELL ON THEM

Noah Matlock and Louis Stark, the two aged men who met with a serious accident yesterday morning while wrecking an old building in Circleville, were reported today as resting as easy as could be expected under the circumstances, but are in a serious condition.

Mr. Stark is said to be in a more serious condition than Mr. Matlock, although the recovery of each is still doubtful, and are still under the influence of medicine to ease their pain.

Mr. Stark, who suffered with the lower jaw bone being broken on both sides of the mouth, has a metal plate clamped in his mouth in order to hold the bones in place, and will have to remain in this condition for 6 weeks, until the bones knit together. Mr. Matlock, who suffered from a broken left leg, almost at the hip, will also be compelled to remain bedfast for a long time, and may be a permanent cripple and invalid.

The two men were tearing down a brick building, when the side wall collapsed and buried them beneath the wreckage. Mr. Matlock is 77 years old and Mr. Stark is 76 years old, and both reside as neighbors in Circleville.

BELIEVES STATE OF WAR EXISTS

London Officials Are Convinced That Sinn Fein Parliament Has Declared War on England

ATTACKS ARE CONTINUED

Sinn Feiners Wear Uniforms Which Substantiates The Belief—London is Being Guarded

(By United Press)

London, Nov. 30.—That the Sinn Fein parliament declared a state of war with England is the belief today of many officials of the Irish office.

The Irish office has no direct information that war has been declared by Dale Erreann's Sinn Fein parliament, but evidence is accumulating to indicate that such a step had been taken.

Backed by former declarations, Sinn Fein soldiers leaped to renewals of attacks on the British forces here and in Ireland today. Dublin murders, the attack on police patrols, culminating in the killing of 16 black and tan at Kilmichael, were accepted here as work of men regarding themselves as carrying on legalized warfare.

Sinn Feiners surrounded two police lorries at Kilmichael killing all but one soldier, wearing uniforms and steel helmets. This was regarded by the government as an act of carrying on legal warfare.

Never before in such an attack have Sinn Feiners appeared in uniforms.

London constabulary reserves were ordered to be in readiness for any future outbreaks. The reserves were organized during the war but had been inactive since the signing of the armistice.

Public buildings in London and many of the other large cities of England are closely guarded against possible Sinn Fein attacks by heavy detachments of police.

In this city the patrol last night was not limited to the streets, but armored boats moved up and down the Thames in front of parliament buildings. With Downing street and its immediate neighborhood shut off from the rest of the city by a high fence which was constantly under the eyes of uniformed men and with the parliament buildings under sentinels' parade, governmental districts of London today assumed the atmosphere of an armed camp.

THREE ARE CHARGED WITH MANSLAUGHTER

Marion County Grand Jury Makes Report on Investigations of School Building Collapse

ARE CONSTRUCTION MEN

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 30.—Three men were charged with manslaughter in the coroner's jury report in connection with the collapse of the new Emmertich Manual Training high school which resulted in the death of two men.

Dr. Robinson, coroner, placed the blame for the collapse on a weighty and vibrant wooden derrick, which was improperly guarded.

The three men were Carl Ettenbach, superintendent of the Ettenbach Stone Company, Donald Carroll, foreman for that company and Marion West employed by the Ettenbach Company.

The coroner's report severely criticized other men connected with the contract work.

DISCUSS FARM SITUATION

Washington, Nov. 30.—Senator Norris, Nebraska, today called a meeting of the senatorial agriculture committee to discuss the serious farm situation and devise means for providing release. The case was filed in Squire Stech's court and has been set for December 6, at nine o'clock in the morning in that court.

PONZI SENTENCED TO 5 YEARS IN PRISON

Millionaire Pleads Guilty of Using Mail to Defraud People and Judge Gives Him The Sentence

USED A NOVEL SCHEME

(By United Press)

Boston, Nov. 30.—The final chapter of the story of Charles Ponzi, bushef basket millionaire, was written today when Judge Hale in the United States district court sentenced the millionaire to five years in the Plymouth jail after pleading guilty of using the mails to defraud. It was only after Rose Ponzi, the wife of the millionaire had carefully pleaded with him, that Ponzi consented to plead guilty.

He told the court through his counsel, if he was given his liberty he would within a few months meet all claims against him. He stated that he did not know that his financial scheme would bring ruin to thousands to men and women, when confronted with the idea of giving little money and then realizing big dividends.

(By United Press)

Seattle, Washington, Nov. 30.—Finding of two bodies of the crew of the Chilean barge, W. J. Pierre, missing since Friday and the discovery of two other bodies washed ashore, exhausted but still alive, at Cape Johnson today, partially confirmed the belief that the vessel had gone down.

SEAL SALE GETS A PROFITIOUS START

With Goal $1,000 in Rush County, Well Organized Campaign is Now Under Way

NEW METHOD IS BEING USED

Solicitation is Made on Basis of 50 Cents Per Capita—Factory Workers Respond

THE HONOR ROLL

Rushville Furniture Co. and employees	$41.00
Park Furniture Co. and employees	61.30
Chas. E. Francis Co. and employees	34.00
Elks lodge	25.00
Industrial club	15.00
The Mauzy Co. and employees	11.00
Total	$187.30

With the goal $1,000 worth of double barred Red Cross Christmas Seals for Rush county, a well organized campaign is under way here to sell the little holiday stickers, the proceeds from which are used in the fight against tuberculosis and to maintain higher health standards.

A different method is being used in the sale of Seals this year and that it has been eminently successful is disclosed by the very satisfactory progress which has already been made.

Formerly it has been the custom to mail one dollar's worth of Seals to scores of people with the request that they return one-dollar, but the present effort is based on solicitation at fifty cents per capita.

It is this scheme which has resulted in $187.30 being raised and will be responsible for a much larger fund, it is believed, because a number of other Rushville concerns, both retailers and manufacturers, have been approached on the subject and have readily consented to take Seals on the per capita basis.

Persons of firms making subscriptions have their choice of buying Seals at one cent each or Health Bonds, which are issued in sums of five dollars or multiples of that figure. The Elks lodge, for example, took a $25 Health Bond, because the lodge had no means of using such a large number of Seals.

People who are not solicited to buy on the per capita basis will be given an opportunity to purchase the little holiday stickers for they will be placed on sale at the post-office, and in other public places in Rushville in the very near future.

A good organization has been built up and those in charge are ambitious to reach the allotment for this county, because that will be an increase of $350 over the largest sum ever raised in the sale of the Red Cross Seals.

The Psi Iota sorority took charge of the campaign and Mrs. Fred Arbuckle, by virtue of the office she holds in the society, has been directing the work and perfecting the organization. Thus far chairmen have been appointed in seven townships outside of Rushville and the other townships will also be organized for the sale. The seven chairmen already in the harness are as follows:

Center—Mrs. Frank Huddleson.
Washington—Mrs. C. L. Smullen.
Jackson—Mrs. J. F. Bowen.
Ripley—Mrs. Ella Coffin.
Walker—1st precinct, J. R. Cross;
2nd, precinct, Dr. Barnett.
Posey—John McCoy.
Noble—Mrs. Margaret Morton.

FAVORS CONCRETE IF DONE RIGHT

Agricultural Department Has Bulletin Telling About Concrete Piping and Success

MUST BE PROPERLY MADE

Washington, D. C., Nov. 30—Poor construction has brought concrete piping into disfavor, but when properly made such piping is undoubtedly a success, say irrigation engineers of the Bureau of Public Roads, United States Department of Agriculture. It was at first thought that concrete could be used for low head pressures only, but better methods of construction have convinced the engineers that its use is not limited in this regard. In this country, concrete piping is now used to withstand 100-foot head pressures, and in Europe, lines have been built which endure pressure heads of several hundred feet. Steel reinforcement is generally used when the heads exceed 15 or 20 feet.

Department Bulletin 852, prepared by the Bureau of Public Roads on the adaptation and use of concrete piping, points out that the carrying capacity lessens very little over a period of years. After 15 years' service, such a pipe showed a deposit only one-sixteenth of an inch thick on the inner surface. Another advantage possessed by this material is that the pipe can be constructed on the ground where it is to be laid, thus simplifying transportation difficulties which might occur if the heavy pipe sections had to be carried to the site of a drainage ditch or an irrigation project.

F. W. Mitchell of Knightstown, one of the owners of the Paint-Print company of that place, who was arrested Tuesday on a charge of accepting stolen property, is still in jail at Newcastle in default of a $4,000 bond. It is charged that he was implicated in the theft of a Cadillac which he sold to H. E. Jennings of that city for $3,500.

The automobile was later taken from Mr. Jennings at Detroit, Mich., by the police there when it was discovered that it had been stolen from a Chicago man several months earlier. The bill of sale, on which Mitchell says he bought the car, was dated two days after the theft was made. The person from whom Mitchell says he bought the car cannot be located.

RUSHVILLE BOYS
IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Machine Goes Into Ditch Near Greensburg Saturday Night But Occupants Escape

NAMES WERE NOT LEARNED

An automobile accident in which Rushville boys were said to have been in charge of the machine, is recorded in a Greensburg dispatch, but the names of the boys was not learned. The account from the News of that city is as follows:

An automobile driven by two young men from Rushville crashed into a culvert at the home of Edgar Hamilton, on the Sandusky pike at about nine thirty o'clock Saturday night and the machine sustained a broken wheel and the boys were badly shaken up and frightened.

They were said to be going at a terrific rate of speed and attempted to pass Mr. Hamilton who was just about to enter his place, on the wrong side. The Rushville car went so far to the side that they struck the stone crossing or culvert and also scraped the Hamilton car but did it no damage.

The boys had a spare wheel with them which they put on the machine and proceeded on their way. If they had gone a foot or two toward the center of the road the car would have struck the Hamilton car and a foot further from the road would have thrown them into an iron post either of which might have been the cause of a much graver accident. One of the boys said his name was Winkler.

Furbelows for Maids

Many a fair maid will rejoice in such new and smart furbelows of ribbon as are pictured here, when Christmas brings her remembrances. Here is a collar, vestee and girdle with a bag to match that are irresistible. This garniture for the waist is made of striped ribbon—showing the glowing colors in Roman stripes.

The girdle is knotted at the left side and hangs in two pointed ends. The bag is drawn up and suspended by narrow satin ribbon, has a silk ornament, like those on the collar, at the bottom.

TO MAKE GOOD WAR
DAMAGE SUFFERED

Belgium's Compensation's Are Mainly Used For The Repairs to Houses and Contents

38,700 HOUSES ARE DESTROYED

Minister of Interior Reports Whole Government Domain is Approaching Restoration

By P. H. SHEFFIELD
Brussels, Belgium, Nov. 10. (By Mail.)—In virtue of number of decrees issued since the armistice, the Belgian Government has steadily continued the undertaking it gave a month prior to the armistice to make good war damage suffered by its people. One of the most interesting categories in this connection are the "little men," those whose loss is covered by a payment of some ten thousand francs (at part $2,000). Ten thousand of these have received sums totalling 36 million francs. The compensation is mainly used for repairs to houses and contents.

Throughout the country there are societies of war claimants for compensation and these, operating in conjunction with the government delegates, carry out the formalities of filing claims. On satisfactory evidence, the government makes an advance of seventy percent of the 1914 value of the destroyed property, plus a sum for re-investment which is calculated on a basis of 2 1/2% in the whole of the country except West Flanders (the most devastated province) where the advance is 3%. Advances under these heads total 81 million francs and 3,300 houses are thus being either rebuilt or repaired. Claims under 15,000 are settled by money payment; over that sum the government places in the hands of the above mentioned society or federation securities on which the society or federation makes advances to the interested parties.

All of these operations refer to private property. With regard to claims made by manufacturers holding war vouchers for property seized by the Germans during the occupation, over two thousand claims have been filed and in satisfaction of these the government has advanced on the security of the war vouchers over 256 million francs.

Big concerns of recognized public utility, such as, for example, the National Road Car Company, the water and dock companies, etc. have received advances of some 250 million francs.

Under all heads of war damage to persons and property, the total of claims lodged is well over 1,250,000. The largest number come from the Courtrai (centre of fighting region) where nearly a quarter of a million claims were filed. To August 31, 1920, the total number of claims settled by all authorities and for all purposes was 74,714, representing a total amount of 1,893 million francs.

In West Flanders alone, 38,700 houses were destroyed and 8,000 damaged so as to be uninhabitable. In the rest of the country the respective figures were 25,000 and 3,500. Some 38,000 acres of land had also been rendered unworkable. Churches, town halls, schools, public offices, and other national buildings were down or damaged all over the country. The government plan in the restoration has been to help those that help themselves, by granting special financial help, and making good any local deficit.

Before a single brick could be laid, much preliminary work had to be done, this including restoration of communications, restarting of the water service, supply of temporary housing accommodation, clearing away of ruins, and preparing of ruined land for agriculture. To date two thirds of the agricultural lands destroyed have been restored. Concurrently with the execution of the preliminary works, thousands of houses and huts are being built, or have already been built.

The Minister of the Interior reports that the whole of the government domain, especially as regards communications, is approaching complete restoration and that industrial and commercial establishments are being gradually reformed. Owing to the complex nature of the matter, the restoration of private property is proceeding more slowly.

Automobile Thieving

The American people are the most "lawed" and at the same time the most "lawless" people on earth, but in spite of the multiplicity of statutes, a little law now and then is not amiss, in fact we have to have it.

A certain number of "freak measures" gets through every state legislature because in such a body of men as assemble in Indianapolis during January of each odd year, there are always a few with a hobby—and they have to get it off their chest, regardless of how much it costs the taxpayers in time lost.

But there is one subject which is deserving of special consideration on the part of the legislature which will convene after Christmas. That is legislation to curb the automobile thieving, which has become such a common practice among the light-fingered gentry of the state.

Of course there are laws a plenty to deal with stealing, and automobile thieves can be properly handled under the existing statutes once they are caught but that's the difficulty—apprehending them.

The aim of any new legislation on this subject should be to make it more difficult for this brand of thief to operate. Senator John S. Alldredge seems to have a proposal which, if made into law, would go a long way towards solving the question, but even a better one may be suggested before the general assembly meets.

Senator Alldredge's proposed law would require filing with the county recorder a paper of conveyance, similar to a deed, on every automobile. In order to sell a machine a person would have to show his conveyance paper and file it with the recorder.

The belief of the framers of the bill is that such a law would prevent the sale of stolen automobiles and hence would remove the motive for stealing them.

Such a law would add another

burden to the automobile owner, already overburdened with legal restrictions, but surely no owner of a car would object to this slight technicality if he were being insured against theft.

Either the barrel bursts, the hunter tries to pull the gun through the fence after him, "nozzle" first, or some other fool thing happens, and every day at this season a heavy toll is levied on the coterie who "didn't know it was loaded".

Every woman will have an opportunity to express her own personality in dress, according to a representative of the national ladies wear manufacturers, but there's little new about that because, the backless, neckless short-skirted dresses have long since given them that chance.

Cass county thieves stole one hundred chickens and then displayed their forehandedness by appropriating a hundred bushels of corn for fattening purposes.

Many fire fighters are having their first "college" experience at the state school for firemen in Indianapolis this week.

The laws of some states preventing the shipping of game outside the state, have saved the reputation of many a hunter.

In England they are making candy to music, according to a newspaper headline, but over here we make it to eat.

The French author who blames the women for the war should never try running for office in America.

Persons who are living solely for the gratification of their own desires are missing a lot in life.

"How in the world can I ever break into the poetry market and get the critics to notice me?"
"Get a job driving a garbage wagon. Then some day when the reeking is especially good, go to a magazine office and hand in some of your best verse. ## DIFFERENTIATED

Recently by riding all along an extensive inter-Reuben railway system twice, we found out the difference between a "limited" and a "local." The limited merely makes what stops there are, and the local makes all of them.

Not the Stealable Kind.

"Now," said the zealous salesman, "can you show me just one reason why you shouldn't buy one of the Gale locks to keep your car from being stolen?"
"Yep," said the quiet man. "Come take one look at me car."

PROBABLY NOT.

Misery loves company, but the attraction isn't mutual.

Grandmother, in your frame on the wall,
Beautiful maid of the long ago,
Stately and slender, blonde and tall,
With the pinched-in waist and the foot so small,
Prishee tell—for I fain would know—
What did you do on that Christmaside
When great, great-grandpapa made you bride?

Handsome and courtly, and debonair,
With his powdered queue and his Roman nose
As richly dark as his bride is fair,
He rests his hand on your straight-back chair
To whisper to you, I suppose—
To whisper again as in long ago
When he kissed you under the mistletoe.

Say, beautiful bride in the antique dress,
Say, beautiful bride in your bridal white,
Did you let him gaze on your loveliness
Till lifted eyes did your heart confess
As you led the dance on your wedding night?
Did he press your hand as he bent to say
Sweet words—as the lovers do today?

Ah! courtly groom of the vanquished years,
Beautiful bride of the days long fled,
Dust, but dust are your hopes and fears,
Cold your kisses, and dried your tears,
But I hang here, over your head,
A sprig of such Christmas mistletoe
As you kissed beneath in the long ago.

A CHRISTMAS WISH

Wherever there is sickness,
May Santa Claus bring health;
Wherever there is poverty,
May Santa Claus bring wealth;
Wherever one is weeping,

May joy come Christmas day.

To every heart that's aching,
May peace and comfort come,
And may an outlook rosy

May friends now separated
Soon reunited be,
And everyone find gladness

MUST ADJUST ITS
MONEY MATTERS

Germany Will be Compelled to Regulate Currency or its Plight Will Resemble Russia

OPINION OF IRON KING

Hugo Stinnes Contends That Germany Must Instigate a Fight Against Socialization

By CARL D. GROAT

Berlin, (By Mail)—"Germany must regulate and adjust its currency and financial situation if it is to avoid conditions worse than Russia's."

This statement of Hugo Stinnes, coal and iron king, is one of his arguments in his fight against socialization of the German coal mines. Stinnes takes the position that, with Germany's finances in a muddled, almost bankrupt condition, socialization of the mines will not alter the financial structure topples, according to his theory. Germany is ruined forever. The entente can step in and take what it wants. And, socialization of the mines will not alter the general financial situation—except perhaps to make it worse.

He contends, further, that the two schemes proposed—total socialization or partial socialization with both capital and labor represented—will make for higher expenses and slower production.

Singling out the coal mines for socialization is according to the mining king, an impossible proposition. The whole national economy must be cleaned up and improved, and this singling out process would only mean a further wrench of the entire structure, he contends.

"The present national investigation into means of socialization of the mines," Stinnes told a group of industrial chieftains, "must take our whole economical situation into consideration."

"If we are unable to regulate our currency, we will be unable to buy any more grain. We need perhaps about 15,000,000,000 marks for foreign foods; to that amount must be added around 20,000,000,000 marks deficit in the post and railroad administration and burdens of the army of occupation. Against this we have only our labor. If we do not regulate our currency, worse conditions will come here than in Russia."

"Removal of the coal mining from the complex of our economic life would spell the ruin of our economy."

The industrialists adopted a resolution saying that full socialization of the mines would mean national death, and would ruin the workers' hopes for an improvement of their situation.

CABINET TO PLAN FOR
DEFENSE OF ENGLAND

Full Report of Dock Fire by Sinn Feiners Were Laid Before The Ministers

DETAILED MAPS FOUND

London, Nov. 30—Plans for the defense of England against Sinn Fein attacks were formed at the meeting of the British cabinet yesterday.

Full report of the dock fire in Liverpool Saturday night and the alleged insinuating efforts of the Sinn Feiners, were laid before the ministers. Indications that the officials will confer over the possibility of further efforts in London were given in the attendance of General Honwood, commissioner of police, and Sir Basil Thompson, of Scotland Yards.

Irish officials made no statements today but it is said that the attitude was that the Sinn Feiners were dissipating themselves in firing efforts. Detailed maps of the disturbance in Liverpool were found in the possession of suspects arraigned today in Liverpool. The maps were marked to show where the fire occurred. The maps and other evidence indicated that the plans for the attack had been laid with great care.

One prisoner caught here, in attempting conflagrating near the Red Lion Market, was believed to have made important admission to the police.

ABOUT ANIMALS—AND "HUMANS"

The Darwinian theory of our origin is often the topic of considerable debate. Whether or not we "humans" descended from the ape does not worry us greatly. One thing we are quite sure of is that we all possess a sense of humor. We enjoy the witty writings about "humans" and animals and whatnot, screened in theatres throughout America in "Topics of the Day" films. Just to prove our contention that a sense of humor is found in all people—even as you and I—the Daily Republican presents some selections of witty wordings all about animals and "humans."

Battleship Fleet as a Christmas Present

By A. NEELY HALL

(Copyright by A. Neely Hall.)

Make a fleet of toy battleships like the model in Fig. 1. It will not take long, because I have designed a model made of parts that can be cut out and assembled quickly. Having built the fleet, you will have lots of fun. Because the model is mounted on wheels, you can run it upon land as well as sail it upon water.

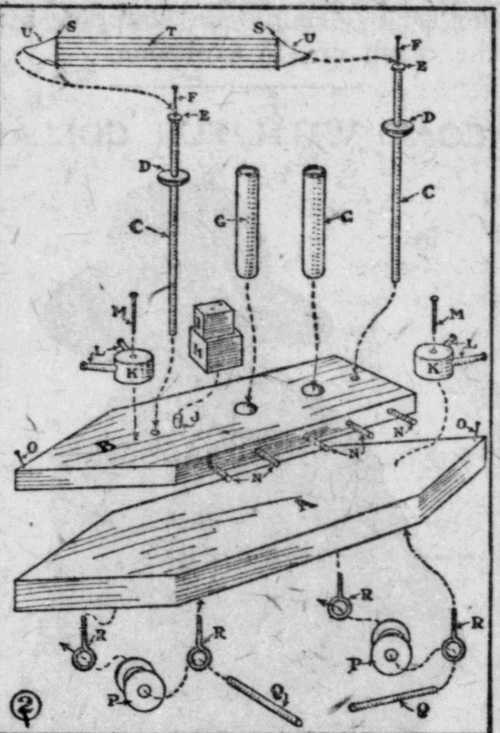

In Fig. 2 is a drawing of every part of the toy battleship, and in Figs. 3 to 8 you will find the same parts drawn to scale with dimensions marked upon them. If you build several ships, I would suggest that you make all of the parts for one boat, first, and then, using these for patterns, mark out and cut the hulls (A) for all the other boats, then the decks (B), then the masts (C), and so on. The work of cutting and assembling will be simplified if you follow this method. A piece of soft pine, cypress, or other soft wood will be easiest to shape. In marking out the hull, draw a centerline as shown in Fig. 3, and lay off the measurements either side of it, to get the sides alike. The upper deck (B, Fig. 4) extends three-quarters of the length of the hull, and it is of the same shape as that portion of the hull; therefore it can be marked out with the hull as a pattern. The holes shown along the edge of the deck (Fig. 4) are made to receive the guns of the secondary battery, the holes along the upper face are made to receive the masts, funnels, etc. The position of each part is indicated in Fig. 2.

The masts (C, Fig. 5) can be whittled or dowel-sticks of the given diameter can be used. The fighting-tops (D and E, Fig. 5) are wooden button molds. The larger one (D) must have its hole enlarged so it will slip over the mast, the smaller one (E) rests on top of the mast and is held in place with the nail F (Fig. 2) driven into the mast-top.

Fig. 6 shows a funnel (G). Use a dowel-stick if you can get one, otherwise whittle a stick to the given diameter. Bore out the top of each funnel if you wish.

There are two gun turrets (K, Fig. 2) and the size is shown in Fig. 8. Whittle the guns (L) of the shape and size shown in Fig. 8, and glue their ends in holes made in the sides of the turrets. Drill a small hole through the center of each turret through which to drive nail pivot M (Fig. 2).

The secondary battery guns (N, Fig. 2) are the ends of burnt matches. Fig. 3 shows the length.

Cut the fore-castle blocks H and I (Fig. 2) square, of the dimensions given in Fig. 7, nail them together, and fasten to the deck with the peg J (Fig. 2).

The spool wheels (P, Fig. 2) have stick axles (Q) cut to fit snugly in their holes, and the axle ends are supported by screw-eyes R, which are screwed into the hull. Start holes for the screw-eyes with an awl, screw the screw-eyes into the holes, and then drive the axles through the screw-eyes and spools.

The wireless telegraph aerial is suspended between the mast tops (Fig. 2). Use toothpicks for spreaders S, thread for wire strands T and end loops U.

When the toy battleships have been assembled, give them a coat of paint.

SPICELAND HERE FRIDAY

Academy Teams Will Play Local High School Teams

The Rushville high school will attempt to stage a "come back" Friday night when the Spiceland Academy comes here for a game. The local high school will probably be handicapped with the absence of Emerson Headlee, the center, but it is expected that the Academy team will be taken into camp, as they were handed a good drubbing on their own floor two weeks ago. The second teams of the two schools will play a curtain raiser, and in this contest, a real game will be seen, as the Spiceland team played the Rushville team to a standstill the first half at Spiceland. Headlee, who was injured on the cement floor at Milroy, will probably be out of the game for several weeks, on account of a bruised foot.

Odd Fellows Team Opens Season on Saturday Night

The Fairview Athletic Club will meet the Cambridge City Cigar Company's team at Fairview Wednesday night, and a good game is expected. Last Friday night the Fairview team went to Cambridge City and defeated the fast independent team of that place by the score of 39 to 29. Fairview also has arranged a game for the Odd Fellows team of this city, which will be played at Fairview on the night of Saturday, December 4. This will be the opening game for the newly organized Rushville team.

Arlington to Have Football Team Again Next Fall

The Arlington A C Football team which closed a successful season Sunday, will again be in the field next fall with just as good a team, if not better, than the one used this year, according to Coach Ross Hutchinson. The game last Sunday, when Shelbyville was defeated 2 to 0 in a sensational game, was attended by over 600 fans from all over the county, and interest was never better in football than it was during this season.

"Passers By" Again Tonight

The chances are that those who went to the Mystic Theatre yesterday and saw J. Stuart Blackton's Pathe production of C. Haddon Chambers' play "Passers By", are still thinking about it. Anything that gets under the skin as does this powerful photoplay, cannot avoid being the talk of the town for the proverbial nine days.

Herbert Rawlinson invests the leading role of Peter Waverton, the wealthy bachelor who entertained the passer by, with tenderness and understanding. He is given the support of three of the best character actors it has been our good fortune to see in a long time. These are Tom Lewis as the kindly cabby; William J. Ferguson as the very dignified valet, and Dick Lee as the vagabond.

The feminine end of the cast is well upheld by Leila Valentine as Waverton's old love; Ellen Cassidy as the new, and Pauline Coffyn as the sister. Charles Stuart Blackton the six-year-old son of the producer, brought forth ohs and ahs of delight from the audience.

It is seldom a picture with the quaint charm, the unique story and the beauty of theme and the artistry of treatment of "Passers By" passes by our way. Don't let opportunity to see it pass by. It remains at the Mystic Theatre today only.

William J. Ferguson, who plays the role of "Pine," the valet in "Passers By," was one of those who witnessed the assassination of Abraham Lincoln in Ford's Theatre.

Mr. Ferguson is nearly seventy years old, and at the time of the tragedy he was a call boy in the old Ford Theatre. (That was his humble beginning in the theatre. At the time Mr. Blackton induced him to play the important role of "Pine" Mr. Ferguson was playing a leading part in the musical comedy success of the season, "The Little Whopper.")

The "Vice of Fools"

"The Vice of Fools", an Allice Joyce special production which will be shown at the Princess theater for the last time today. Two girls and two men—all moving in fashionable society—are the principal characters.

Only one of the four, Marion Rogers, acted by Miss Joyce, stands out as a figure of simple dignity and strength. The others are either weak-willed and vacillating or frivolous and empty-headed or idly vicious. And for a time the alliance of the three threatens to get the better of the girl.

How Marion struggles to save the man she loves from the penalty of his foolish infatuation for a society butterfly forms the theme of the play. Her strength does not stop her from making one error—that of throwing the two together—and the rest of the play is taken up with the retrieving of that blunder.

Miss Joyce makes the woman a commanding and appealing figure. She is at her best, emotionally and torially, as she meets the crises. She is almost felled by a blow dealt her, tragically, by the giddy debutant but her unswerving devotion, in the face of seemingly insurmountable

Purdue, Indiana and State Normal Face a Crisis Unless Appropriation is Made

A MEETING HELD LAST NIGHT

(By United Press)
Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 30.—Indiana's three educational institutions, Purdue and Indiana universities the State Normal school, are in serious financial straits because of greatly increased cost of everything and the comparatively slight increase in their incomes. This was brought out last night at a dinner here when the situation of the three institutions was put before several hundred prominent Indianapolis citizens.

Unless considerably more financial support is given to all three institutions, the number of students have to be limited next year everything will have to be done to curtail expenses, it was stated.

Presidents W. E. Stonem, Purdue, W. L. Bryan, Indiana; W. W. Hines, state superintendent of education, acted as toastmaster. Mrs. D. C. Brown and Huesman, Indianapolis; S. M. ner, Anderson; Elwood Haynes, county farmer, were the speakers.

All three institutions will present their cases to the legislature at a coming session where relief was sought.

Pretty powder bowls and baskets are sure of a great vogue for Christmas gifts. At the lower left a glass bowl supports a puff holding a doll's head and at the right a net-covered jar enthrones a Jap baby.

Back in the early part of 1913 this business was organized and started in a small frame building. Then came a move into larger quarters on account of increased patronage.

TODAY

We occupy our own plant. It is the third place we have occupied since our organization. Our patronage speaks for itself. Year after year we have expanded and added new equipment, which makes our plant today one of the finest in the state.

WE INVITE INSPECTION

Come, see for yourself, the different departments in operation. Work is taken care of in Rushville, and is not trusted to some cleaner in an out of town plant. Because of the trust people have placed in us, is only one reason why our plant has so successfully existed under the same management for over seven years.

This plant is the only plant in Rush County that is entitled to the name of "Master Cleaners."

WHO WILL BE NEXT QUEEN IS A PUZZLE

This is Question That Every Woman
and Newspaper in England
Is Trying to Solve

PRINCE OF WALES DIFFERENT

One of Main Qualifications Will be
Substantial Bank Roll For Royal
House is Not Wealthy

By P. M. SARE

London, Nov. 10. (By Mail).—Who is going to be the next Queen of England?

This is the puzzle that certainly every woman and most of the newspapers and male folk in England are trying to solve.

For the first time since the matrimonial experiments of bluff King Henry the Eighth, there is an excellent chance of a "Commoner" mounting the throne of England, and hordes of matchmaking mammas, to say nothing of hundreds of blushing debutantes, who six years ago would have admitted themselves ruled out of the contest, realize that the Imperial Crown is well within their grasp, plus a very presentable Prince Charming, if they can manage to rope in the Prince of Wales.

Among the many social upheavals caused by the war not the least striking is the difference it has made to the Prince of Wales. Without a world war, he would certainly have been married—according to plan, and probably before now—to some German, Russian or other princess. He might have been given a choice of two or three, but his list for selection would have been strictly limited. But with the wiping out of the Russian royal family and the total eclipse of the German and Austrian dynasties, he has been able to call for a pack of cards for himself and claim a fresh deal.

In fact there are only four princesses of suitable age left in Europe. They are the Italian Princesses Yolanda and Mafalda, Marie of Rumania and Margaret of Denmark. The Italian candidates are Catholics perhaps not an insuperable obstacle, but anyway the Italian throne is not regarded as too stable just now, a consideration which will weigh very heavy when the final decision is taken by the Powers that arrange royal marriages. The Danish Princess Margaret is a prime favorite of Queen-Mother Alexandra's but there is no indication that the Prince has any views in that direction, while the exponents of High Policy cannot see any advantage to Britain in an alliance with poor little bankrupt Rumania.

Were King Albert's daughter five or six years older, High Policy would doubtless win and an Anglo-Belgian alliance consummated, but little Princess Marie is only fourteen, and a Prince of Wales cannot wait for her to grow up. Three English princesses are available, two Teck princesses and Maud, younger daughter of the late Duke of Fife, but the Tecks have little wealth or prestige, while the greater part of the Fife fortune went with the title to the elder daughter, Princess Alexandra, who married Prince Arthur of Connaught.

Hence the "matchmakers" have turned to the "Old Nobility" of England and right here the said Old Nobility must be kicking itself badly over the fact that it hasn't more marriageable daughters to offer. Taking the three highest ranks, twenty eight dukes can only provide fourteen daughters of suitable age, forty-two marquises but fifteen and 225 earls a paltry thirty-seven eligible candidates. Three-quarters of these would be automatically ruled out through lack of fortune, personal looks or on account of entanglements, divorcees, etc., of their parents or near relations, for no scandal must be raked up against the future Queen of England, nor can "dubois" relatives be tolerated.

Advocates of Anglo-American friendship are rooting for an American bride, and the Prince has doubtless seen plenty of suitable candidates over here, but the wish of the man-in-the-street undoubtedly is for "Our Young Man" to make an English marriage. So far, however no indication of his choice has been given by the Prince himself, not even the most confirmed matchmaker having detected him showing undue partiality for any particular person.

There are no very rigid Court rules on the subject in England, the consent of the King being sufficient to satisfy etiquette, and the consent of Parliament, which has to be obtained by the heir to the Throne in any even, royal or otherwise. Parliament would readily consent to

Shorty drops in on New York!

HERE WE ARE, PETE!

New York
Wednesday night

Camped once more in the plumb centre of our old stamping grounds—rubbing elbows with the roaring racket and running flush into more electric displays, blazing posters and smashing signs that sound the joys of Camel Cigarettes than you'd ever believe could be jammed into one town!

When I hit Broadway this p. m. I'd said the Reynolds folks had transplanted "Camel City" right up here!

It seems like all New Yorkers have adopted Camels as their own personal brand! And, Pete, since this is the original speed town it's only what you expect when you see 'em carry a package of Camels in each coat pocket. If their right hand is busy, they dig out their left hand deck—they just won't lose time getting a Camel lighted! That's the gait around here, old thorobred!

And, Peter, the New Yorker has his own A-1 pet reason why he's so keen for Camels. For instance, Doc Marshall will bet his car on Camels quality against any cigarette in the world! Bill James says to me—"Shorty, there never was mild, mellow body like Camels." And, as for Dan Boggs—he spills it that Camels are the only cigarette free from any unpleasant cigarette aftertaste or cigarette odor! And, he knows! Frank Frazer will tell you it's Camels wonderful Turkish and Domestic blend! And all of them are right!

And, Pete, old proof-of-the-pudding—you tell 'em that Missouri hasn't anything on little old New York when it comes to that "show me" stuff, on cigarettes or anything else!

Sincerely

Shorty

a non-royal bride, and it is generally believed that King George and Queen Mary are desirous of allowing the young prince to choose for himself.

Equally with the Prince of Wales, Princess Mary stands a fine chance of being permitted to take a non-royal husband, for there are no eligible princes of her own age left in Europe. The younger princes of England may profit similarly.

One of the main qualifications for a non-royal Princess of Wales, or non-royal husband for Princess Mary, will be a substantial bank-roll, for the British royal house is not wealthy.

Answer These Important Questions

Have you ever had cause to doubt that you enjoy perfect vision? Do your eyes feel sore after a spell of close work—aching, smarting, or feeling as if sand or grit was lodged behind the lids?

Do you ever, while reading find that the print suddenly "goes misty" and confused? Is it necessary for you to hold your book or newspaper further away from the eyes than formerly—or do you need a stronger light? Do you find that reading or sewing for an extra hour or two causes headaches?

If you have noticed any of these peculiarities with your eyes you should have them carefully examined. Call and see us at once.

FULL Automatic Starts and Stops Itself

Not Merely "Self Starting"

THE Matthews "Automatic Caretaker" requires no prompting from the human brain in the recharging of the storage batteries. Long before they are exhausted to the danger point the "Automatic Caretaker," of its own accord, automatically starts the engine recharging the batteries. And it automatically stops recharging when the batteries are full. A "self-starting" plant depends on some one's memory. The "Automatic Caretaker" can be obtained with

MATTHEWS ELECTRIC LIGHT AND POWER PLANTS

When batteries are in danger of heating through overload the "Automatic Caretaker" instantly starts the generator which takes ALL the load. If the drain is still too heavy, the batteries are automatically "cut in" again and help the generator. Any plant that does less than this is NOT Full Automatic and is out of date the day it is installed.

Matthews rating is based on generator capacity ALONE—batteries being a reserve supply. Six sizes, $445 upwards. Ask the Matthews dealer for Demonstration. Write for Free Booklet "A"

THE ABERCROMBIE FARM

In order to divide up the Theodore Abercrombie estate among the heirs, the farm, known as the

adjoining Rushville at the city limits on the north and consisting of 284 acres, more or less, is now offered for sale at private sale.

This is one of the best farms in Rush County, most of it having been in the family for fifty years and has been well taken care of and not rented.

It is capable of division into two complete and separate farms—each with tenant houses, barns and other first class improvements. That part known as the "East Place" lies on the east side of Main street, and comprises about one hundred and thirty-one acres, and that portion known as the "West Place" lies on the west side of Main Street, and consists of about one hundred and fifty-three acres. Both farms extend down to Eleventh street.

For farming purposes there are no better farms in Rush County than these, but they are further valuable because they lie right at the limits of the city on the north and adjacent to Rushville's finest residence section. Both farms are capable of sub-division into valuable city lots. Part of the farm has already been laid off into city lots, taken into the city and fine residences built upon it.

As the L. E. & W. R. R. bounds the farm on the west, and the Pennsylvania R. R. intersects a portion of the farm on the east, several fine factory sites are available.

This land will be offered for sale as a whole or as two separate farms. Possession will be given on or before March first, 1921.

DIAMOND IMPORTS HAVE DOUBLED

The Value of 1920 Imports Was Almost $89,000,000 According to Records Shown

U. S. CHIEF CONSUMER

Almost 90-Percent of The Gems Received Here Comes From The South African Mines

Imports of diamonds into the United States during the fiscal year 1920 were nearly double those of the previous year and more than three times the 1918 total, according to figures given by the National Bank of Commerce, in New York. The value of the 1920 imports given by the 89 millions of dollars, the bank shows in the December number of its magazine, Commerce Monthly.

"The United States, is, and has been for many years, the chief consumer of diamonds and practically the entire production of the better class of stones finds its market in this country," says Commerce Monthly. "Formerly, the American demand was altogether for the cut stones, but in the last two decades a diamond cutting industry of considerable importance has been established in New York City.

"Imports of uncut diamonds into the United States have greatly increased since the beginning of the war. In the round shapes American cut diamonds are considered superior to stones finished in Europe and are in almost universal demand by the retail trade in the United States.

The diamond market is at present the most completely controlled of all commodity markets, the system of control having been greatly strengthened within the past two years. More than 90 per cent of the world's present supply of diamonds comes from the mines of South Africa. These mines after years of conflict, have been united and their combined output is now marketed by the diamond syndicate of London.

"The value of diamonds has increased almost without a break since the beginning of control. Following the outbreak of war the South African mines were not operated for a number of months. Later however, a stimulated demand for diamonds appeared, caused by the buying of persons in the United States to whom the war had brought prosperity and by the chaotic conditions in Europe which led many people to exchange their worldly goods for diamonds, a commodity easy to conceal and relatively free from depreciation.

"During this period of buying, prices for certain grades went much above those set by the diamond syndicate. Since 1919, although the demand for diamonds has been the largest in history, production has been held down, due, it is commonly believed, to the threatened exhaustion of some of the mines. The diamond syndicate has recently announced that in keeping with its policy in the past, production will be reduced if necessary to maintain its price levels."

TESTIFIES THAT THE PAY ROLL WAS PADDED

Willis Cash Charges Shipping Board Before Walsh Committee Investigating Operators

FORMERLY AN AUDITOR

New York, Nov. 30.—That the pay rolls were padded and that the government made use of private contracts, were the charges made today by Willis Cash formerly travelling auditor for shipping board, testifying before the Walsh committee investigating the operations of the shipping board.

While auditing the accounts of the Groton Iron Works, of Connecticut Cash testified that 3,000 errors were found in the payroll. It was found that one man held four and five positions simultaneously which each would have required 40 to 50 hours a week.

At the Alexandria, West Virginia, ship yards, several loads of lumber which were to have been used by the shipping board, were found to have been turned over to subsidiary companies for use in building houses.

J. M. Hildreth, vice president of the Belmont Packing Company, of New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, testified that bids made by his company were from 20 to 25 percent lower than the next highest bid but were rejected.

CALLS MEETING OF DIRECTORS DEC. 3

Indiana League of Women Voters to Discuss Legislation to Endorse in Next Session

SUPPORT INFANCY BILL

State League Has Committees at Work on All Various Lines of Legislation

Mrs. A. H. Beardsley, president of the Indiana League of Women Voters with headquarters at Elkhart, Indiana, has called a meeting of the twenty-eight directors at Indianapolis December 3rd to discuss and to decide upon the legislation which the League will endorse and lobby for in the next session of Congress and the State Legislature convening in January.

The National League of Women Voters, made up of the thirty-six states having state organization, is supporting the Sheppard-Towner Maternity and Infancy Bill which is to come up early in the December session of Congress, also the Smith Towner and Kenyon Educational Bills, the Fess Vocational Bill, and the Naturalization Bill presented at the last Congress and which the League desires amended to cover certain points relating to women.

The local organizations throughout the State are already active in their campaign for the Maternity and Infancy Bill and are having observed in the churches Sunday December 5th as Mother and Child Day.

While the legislative program for Indiana has not been definitely decided upon, it is understood that the League will support such measures as child welfare; compulsory school attendance; permanent women and children's department of the Industrial Board with a woman at its head; measures to ameliorate adult illiteracy and the Beardsley amendment to the state constitution requiring full citizenship of either man or woman before granting the privilege of suffrage. The President of the League has received a large number of requests for support of bills to be introduced by various other organizations and to act upon these petitions is the main purpose of the directors' meeting.

The State League has committees at work on all of the various lines of legislation to which it is committed and recommendations from the following committees are to be submitted to the Directors; Child Welfare, Mrs. Ella B. Kehrer of Anderson, Chairman; Education, Miss Lillian G. Berry of Indiana University of Bloomington; Women in Industry, Mrs. Luella Cox of the State Industrial Board; Legal Status of Women, Mrs. Carrina Warrington, lawyer of Ft. Wayne; Social Hygiene, Dr. Adah McMahan, LaFayette.

At the meeting of the National Directors in New York last week Indiana was reported as the banner State for the Fourth Region which includes Michigan, Ohio, Kentucky, West Virginia, Indiana, Illinois and Wisconsin.

WILSON MAY ASK REVISION OF LAW

White House Officials State President Would Sign Bill for Revision of Revenue Act

REPUBLICANS OPPOST ACT

Believe That The Short Session of Congress Would be too Brief to Undertake Task

Washington, Nov. 30—President Wilson in his forthcoming message to congress, may ask for immediate revision of the revenue law, despite the decision of the republican leaders to postpone action on this law until after March 4, it was indicated at the White House.

White House officials stated that the president would sign any bill now which would revise the law and they also pointed out that the president has twice before decided for the revision of the tax law. Congress failed to act on either suggestion.

Republican leaders in the house and senate believe that the short session of congress would be too brief for the revision of the tax law and they are disinclined to take up the measure until after President Wilson has left his office.

It was reflected in a statement of the Secretary of State Houston, President Wilson believed in the redistribution of taxation rather than in any attempt to lower them.

It was also understood that the excess profit tax should now be repealed. It was also pointed out that some amendment to the tariff law might not be objected to by the president.

Wilson is proceeding in the writing of his message but it is not yet completed. Secretary Tumulty and the president conferred today concerning the message.

BUSINESS PICKS UP IN CIRCUIT COURT

Divorce Suit is Filed and an Action to Collect on a Note Are Two New Suits Today

OTHER MATTERS TAKEN UP

Evidence Heard in Two Suits This Morning and Stout vs Brown Case is Sent to Hancock Co.

Two new suits were filed in circuit court today and this morning several minor cases were disposed of, without the services of the jury. One new case was a divorce action and the other case a complaint on an account and note.

Emmett McGinnis this morning filed suit for divorce from Dora McGinnis, charging her with unfaithfulness and with failure to prepare a suitable home.

The complaint states that they were married in March 1910 and separated on November 26 of this year. He states that he had given her the right to use his checking account at the bank, with the agreement that she would not spend money only for things that she would tell him about, and he charges her with violating the agreement.

He also states that on the 27 of November, the day following their separation, she issued a check for the amount of $200. He states further that "she did not care for their home and when importuned to save their home, said 'to hell with the home' ". He alleges that she frequently cursed him, and that she was guilty of associating with other men, whose names he did not know.

The Inland Motor Sales Corporation of Connersville has filed a suit against Alva D. Bakins, on a complaint on a note and account. The suit is in two paragraphs, the first being to collect on a note for the amount of $215 which was issued on November 3, 1919 and due on March 1, 1920. The other paragraph is to collect on a bill of goods, which the plaintiff alleges is due them. The amount asked for in this paragraph is $70.48. Both parts also seek judgment for costs and attorney fees.

This morning judgment was found for the plaintiff Charles C. Jeffrey-Smith against the two defendants, Edgar Archey and Samuel A. Colter in the sum of $36.54 and costs. The defendants defaulted. The case was to collect on an account. Jeffrey-Smith formerly was in the garage business at Milroy, but is now in business at Greensburg.

Will Y. Stout, who recently filed suit for damage for breach of contract against Oliver N. Brown, petitioned the court for a change of venue and the case was sent to Hancock county. Judgment is asked in the sum of $295 in this case.

Judgment this morning was awarded Sharer and Moore, a hardware firm in Chicago, against Joseph Hardin in the sum of $129.37 and costs. The suit was brought to collect on a note which was alleged to be overdue. The judgment was reached by agreement this morning in court.

N. R. Farlow, as executor of the estate of Washington Farlow, dismissed his action this morning in the circuit court against his brother, John D. Farlow. The suit was an action for damages and appointment of a receiver. The plaintiff dismissed and paid the costs in the case. These two parties also were involved in a suit yesterday at Shelbyville, sent there on a change of venue from this county.

ILL WITH PERITONITIS

WAGES REDUCED 10 PERCENT

Rubber Company Announces That Salaries Must Come Down

(By United Press)
Akron, Ohio, Nov. 30.—Fire Stone Tire and Rubber have announced a ten percent reduction in salaries.

"We have given careful consideration to every phase to the present economical situation," said a statement issued by that company. "Conditions have necessitated a reduction in every line of production. Salaries came last, but this could not be expected." The company also reduced the dividend rates from $2.00 to $1.50 per share a quarter.

DISCUSS PLANS FOR STATE HEADQUARTERS

Executive Committee of American Legion Will Present Plans to The State Legislature

STATE MEMORIAL BUILDING

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 30.—Means by which the city of Indianapolis and Marion county can cooperate with the state in erecting a war memorial building here for use as national headquarters of the American Legion and other patriotic bodies were to be discussed here today by the executive committee of the Indiana department of the legion.

When the state legislature provided a tax levy designed to raise $2,000,000 and the transfer of the state school for the blind in this city for the new building, the city and county tried to get other legislation approved by the law makers enabling them to help. This is expected to be undertaken again at the legislature when it meets in January as a result of the meeting today.

Another matter confronting the executive committee is the final approval of a bill to be presented to the assembly legalizing boxing contests in the state. The bill was defeated by a sub-committee and was to be put before the full committee today for consideration.

The committee also will take up other bills to be placed before the legislature the nature of which has not been made public.

FEWER FUR BEARING ANIMALS PENNED UP

Game Wardens See in This Evidence of Better Understanding of State Law on Subject

WHAT CUSTOM FORMERLY WAS

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 30.—Game wardens of the state department of conservation who report finding far less skunks and other small furbearers penned up this year than usual prior to the open season, seen in this evidence, that there is a better understanding of the law against keeping fur-bearing animals in captivity in this state.

In the past it was frequently the custom for persons to catch these animals in the fall and closed season and hold them until early winter when the fur is prime.

Indiana game laws prohibit the taking of fur-bearers in closed or protected seasons. It is lawful to catch skunks and other fur-bearers in the open season, but if it is planned to hold them for propagating purposes, it is necessary at the start of the closed season to procure a certificate from the state department to show that the fur-bearers are being held in captivity for fur farming. Such fur farms so designated by the certificates are at frequent intervals inspected by officials from the division of fish and game.

MOVES TO THIS CITY

Dr. and Mrs. M. L. McKee, of Marion, Ind., is moving here and will occupy the Banta property, corner of Morgan and Fifth streets.

RUSH COUNTY WILL CASE IS SETTLED

Jury is Impanelled at Shelbyville When John Farlow is Given $5,000 by Agreement

INVOLVED $30,000 IN LAND

Case Was Over Will of Late Washington Farlow in Which Two Brothers Quarrelled

The suit to contest the will of the late Washington Farlow, which was filed by John D. Farlow, a son, against Nathan Farlow, another son as executor of the estate, came to an abrupt ending yesterday in the Shelby circuit court where it was sent on a change of venue from this county. The suit was compromised, with the agreement that the plaintiff was to receive $5,000.

The two sons of the late Washington Farlow started the suit in this court shortly after the father died, which was on December 31, 1919. Two suits were filed by the plaintiff, one to contest the will and the other for the partition and sale of the real estate. The will of the deceased left practically everything to the favored son, and considered John D. Farlow an outcast.

The estate over which the suits were filed involved 147½ acres of land in the western part of the county, valued at $30,000.

A special venire was drawn in Shelby county to try the case and the jury was obtained about noon. When the opening statements were about ready to be made, the defendant offered a compromise and the case was settled by granting the defendant $5,000.

No case attracted as much attention in recent months as the will case did, and each side was represented in the court room with four law firms apiece, most of them being from Rushville.

The defense had over 60 witnesses summoned and had the case gone through, it would have required three weeks of steady work to have concluded the evidence.

An attempt was made before the trial to have the two complaints combined for hearing with the same evidence, but this motion was overruled by the court.

The jury which had been impanelled to hear the case was discharged after the attorneys announced that they had reached an agreement.

INJURED MEN ARE IN SERIOUS CONDITION

Noah Matlock and Louis Stark Are Held Under Influence of Medicine to Relieve Pain

BUILDING FELL ON THEM

Noah Matlock and Louis Stark, the two aged men who met with a serious accident yesterday morning while wrecking an old building in Circleville, were reported today as resting as easy as could be expected under the circumstances, but are in a serious condition.

Mr. Stark is said to be in a more serious condition than Mr. Matlock, although the recovery of each is still doubtful, and are still under the influence of medicine to ease their pain.

Mr. Stark, who suffered with the lower jaw bone being broken on both sides of the mouth, has a metal plate clamped in his mouth in order to hold the bones in place, and will have to remain in this condition for 6 weeks, until the bones knit together. Mr. Matlock, who suffered from a broken left leg, almost at the hip, will also be compelled to remain bedfast for a long time, and may be a permanent cripple and invalid.

The two men were tearing down a brick building, when the side wall collapsed and buried them beneath the wreckage. Mr. Matlock is 77 years old and Mr. Stark is 76 years old, and both reside as neighbors in Circleville.

BELIEVES STATE OF WAR EXISTS

ATTACKS ARE CONTINUED

Sinn Feiners Wear Uniforms Which Substantiates The Belief—London is Being Guarded

(By United Press)

London, Nov. 30.—That the Sinn Fein parliament declared a state of war with English is the belief today of many officials of the Irish office.

The Irish office has no direct information that war has been declared by Dale Eireann's Sinn Fein parliament, but evidence is accumulating to indicate that such a step had been taken.

Backed by former declarations, Sinn Fein soldiers leaped to renewals of attacks on the British forces here and in Ireland today. Dublin murders, the attack on police patrols, culminating in the killing of 16 black and tan at Kilmichael, were accepted here as work of men regarding themselves as carrying on legalized warfare.

Sinn Feiners surrounded two police lorries at Kilmichael killing all but one soldier, wearing uniforms and steel helmets. This was regarded by the government as an act of carrying on legal warfare.

Never before in such an attack have Sinn Feiners appeared in uniforms.

London constabulary reserves were ordered to be in readiness for any future outbreaks. The reserves were organized during the war but had been inactive since the signing of the armistice.

Public buildings in London and many of the other large cities of England are closely guarded against possible Sinn Fein attacks by heavy detachments of police.

In this city the patrol last night was not limited to the streets, but armored boats moved up and down the Thames in front of parliament buildings. With Downing street and its immediate neighborhood shut off from the rest of the city by a high fence which was constantly under the eyes of uniformed men and with the parliament buildings under sentinels' parade, governmental districts of London today assumed the atmosphere of an armed camp.

THREE ARE CHARGED WITH MANSLAUGHTER

Marion County Grand Jury Makes Report on Investigations of School Building Collapse

ARE CONSTRUCTION MEN

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 30.—Three men were charged with manslaughter in the coroner's jury report in connection with the collapse of the new Emmerich Manual Training high school which resulted in the death of two men.

Dr. Robinson, coroner, placed the blame for the collapse on a weighty and vibrant wooden derrick, which was improperly guarded.

The three men were Carl Eitenbach, superintendent of the Eitenbach Stone Company, Donald Carroll, foreman for that company and Marion West employed by the Eitenbach Company.

The coroner's report severely criticized other men connected with the contract work.

DISCUSS FARM SITUATION

Washington, Nov. 30.—Senator Norris, Nebraska, today called a meeting of the senatorial agricultural committee to discuss the serious farm situation and devise means for providing release. The committee met at 2 o'clock this afternoon and probably will issue a call for a conference of members of the house and senate representing farm states.

James T. Arbuckle has filed suit against Emery Ratekin for the possession of a piece of city property tenanted by Ratekin. The complaint alleges that the property was rented in January, and was to be paid on weekly rentals. The plaintiff states that the renter is behind $18 in the rents, and he demands immediate possession of the house.

The case was filed in Squire Stech's court and has been set for December 6, at nine o'clock in the morning in that court.

PONZI SENTENCED TO 5 YEARS IN PRISON

Millionaire Pleads Guilty of Using Mail to Defraud People and Judge Gives Him The Sentence

USED A NOVEL SCHEME

(By United Press)

Boston, Nov. 30.—The final chapter of the story of Charles Ponzi, bushel basket millionaire, was written today when Judge Hale in the United States district court sentenced the millionaire to five years in the Plymouth jail after pleading guilty of using the mails to defraud.

It was only after Rosa Ponzi, the wife of the millionaire had carefully pleaded with him, that Ponzi consented to plead guilty.

He told the court through his counsel, if he was given his liberty he would within a few months meet all claims against him. He stated that he did not know that his financial scheme would bring ruin to thousands to men and women, when confronted with the idea of giving little money and then realizing big dividends.

(By United Press)

Seattle, Washington, Nov. 30.—Finding of two bodies of the crew of the Chilean barge, W. J. Perrie, missing since Friday and the discovery of two other bodies washed ashore, exhausted but still alive, at Cape Johnson today, partially confirmed the belief that the vessel had gone down.

SEAL SALE GETS A PROFITIOUS START

With Goal $1,000 in Rush County, Well Organized Campaign is Now Under Way

NEW METHOD IS BEING USED

Solicitation is Made on Basis of 50 Cents Per Capita—Factory Workers Respond

THE HONOR ROLL

Rushville Furniture Co. and employees	$41.00
Park Furniture Co. and employees	61.30
Chas. E. Francis Co. and employees	34.00
Elks lodge	25.00
Industrial club	15.00
The Mauzy Co. and employees	11.00

Total $187.30

With the goal $1,000 worth of double barred Red Cross Christmas Seals for Rush county, a well organized campaign is under way here to sell the little holiday stickers, the proceeds from which are used in the fight against tuberculosis and to maintain higher health standards.

A different method is being used in the sale of Seals this year and that it has been eminently successful is disclosed by the very satisfactory progress which has already been made.

Formerly it has been the custom to mail one dollar's worth of Seals to scores of people with the request that they return one-dollar, but the present effort is based on solicitation at fifty cents per capita.

It is this scheme which has resulted in $187.30 being raised and will be responsible for a much larger fund, it is believed, because a number of other Rushville concerns, both retailers and manufacturers, have been approached on the subject and have readily consented to take Seals on the per capita basis.

Persons of firms making subscriptions have their choice of buying Seals at one cent each or Health Bonds, which are issued in sums of five dollars or multiples of that figure. The Elks lodge, for example, took a $25 Health Bond, because the lodge had no means of using such a large number of Seals.

People who are not solicited to buy on the per capita basis will be given an opportunity to purchase the little holiday stickers for they will be placed on sale at the post office, and in other public places in Rushville in the very near future.

A good organization has been built up and those in charge are ambitious to reach the allotment for this county, because that will be an increase of $350 over the largest sum ever raised in the sale of the Red Cross Seals.

The Psi Iota sorority took charge of the campaign and Mrs. Fred Arbuckle, by virtue of the office she holds in the society, has been directing the work and perfecting the organization. Thus far chairmen have been appointed in seven townships outside of Rushville and the other townships will also be organized for the sale. The seven chairmen already in the harness are as follows:

Center—Mrs. Frank Huddleson.
Washington—Mrs. C. L. Smullen.
Jackson—Mrs. J. F. Bowen.
Ripley—Mrs. Ella Coffin.
Walker—1st precinct, J. R. Cross;
2nd precinct, Dr. Barnett.
Posey—John McCoy.
Noble—Mrs. Margaret Morton.

FAVORS CONCRETE IF DONE RIGHT

Agricultural Department Has Bulletin Telling About Concrete Piping and Success

MUST BE PROPERLY MADE

Washington, D. C., Nov. 30—Poor construction has brought concrete piping into disfavor, but when properly made such piping is undoubtedly a success, say irrigation engineers of the Bureau of Public Roads, United States Department of Agriculture. It was at first thought that concrete could be used for low head pressures only, but better methods of construction have convinced the engineers that its use is not limited in this regard. In this country, concrete piping is now used to withstand 100-foot head pressures, and in Europe, lines have been built which endure pressure heads of several hundred feet. Steel reinforcement is generally used when the heads exceed 15 or 20 feet.

Department Bulletin 852, prepared by the Bureau of Public Roads on the adaptation and use of concrete piping, points out that the carrying capacity lessens very little over a period of years. After 15 years' service, such a pipe showed a deposit only one-sixteenth of an inch thick on the inner surface. Another advantage possessed by this material is that the pipe can be constructed on the ground where it is to be laid, thus simplifying transportation difficulties which might occur if the heavy pipe sections had to be carried to the site of a drainage ditch or an irrigation project.

It is charged that he was implicated in the theft of a Cadillac which he sold to H. E. Jennings of that city for $3,500. The automobile was later taken from Mr. Jennings at Detroit, Mich., by the police there when it was discovered that it had been stolen from a Chicago man several months earlier. The bill of sale, on which Mitchell says he bought the car, was dated two days after the theft was made. The person from whom Mitchell says he bought the car cannot be located.

RUSHVILLE BOYS
IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Machine Goes Into Ditch Near Greensburg Saturday Night But Occupants Escape

NAMES WERE NOT LEARNED

An automobile accident in which Rushville boys were said to have been in charge of the machine, is recorded in a Greensburg dispatch, but the names of the boys was not learned. The account from the News of that city is as follows:

An automobile driven by two young men from Rushville crashed into a culvert at the home of Edgar Hamilton, on the Sandusky pike at about nine thirty o'clock Saturday night and the machine sustained a broken wheel and the boys were badly shaken up and frightened.

They were said to be going at a terrific rate of speed and attempted to pass Mr. Hamilton who was just about to enter his place, on the wrong side. The Rushville car went so far to the side that they struck the stone crossing or culvert and also scraped the Hamilton car but did it no damage.

The boys had a spare wheel with them which they put on the machine and proceeded on their way. If they had gone a foot or two toward the center of the road the car would have struck the Hamilton car and a foot further from the road would have thrown them into an iron post either of which might have been the cause of a much graver accident. One of the boys said his name was Winkler.

Furbelows for Maids

Many a fair maid will rejoice in such new and smart furbelows of ribbon as are pictured here, when Christmas brings her remembrances. Here is a collar, vestee and girdle with a bag to match that are irresistible. This garniture for the waist is made of striped ribbon—showing the glowing colors in Roman stripes.

The girdle is knotted at the left side and hangs in two pointed ends. The bag is drawn up and suspended by narrow satin ribbon, has a silk ornament, like those on the collar, at the bottom.

TO MAKE GOOD WAR
DAMAGE SUFFERED

Belgium's Compensation's Are Mainly Used For The Repairs to Houses and Contents

38,700 HOUSES ARE DESTROYED

Minister of Interior Reports Whole Government Domain is Approaching Restoration

By P. H. SHEFFIELD

Brussels, Belgium, Nov. 10. (By Mail).—In virtue of number of decrees issued since the armistice, the Belgian Government has steadily continued the undertaking it gave a month prior to the armistice to make good war damage suffered by its people. One of the most interesting categories in this connection are the "little men," those whose loss is covered by a payment of some ten thousand francs (at part $2,000). Ten thousand of these have received sums totalling 36 million francs. The compensation is mainly used for repairs to houses and contents.

Throughout the country there are societies of war claimants for compensation and these, operating in conjunction with the government delegates, carry out the formalities of filing claims. On satisfactory evidence, the government makes an advance of seventy percent of the 1914 value of the destroyed property, plus a sum for re-investment which is calculated on a basis of 2½ in the whole of the country except West Flanders (the most devastated province) where the advance is 3%. Advances under these heads total 81 million francs and 3,300 houses are thus being either rebuilt or repaired. Claims under 15,000 are settled by money payment; over that sum the government places in the hands of the above mentioned society or federation securities on which the society or federation makes advances to the interested parties.

All of these operations refer to private property. With regard to claims made by manufacturers holding war vouchers for property seized by the Germans during the occupation, over two thousand claims have been filed and in satisfaction of these the government has advanced on the security of the war vouchers over 256 million francs.

Big concerns of recognized public utility, such as, for example, the National Road Car Company, the water and dock companies, etc. have received advances of some 250 million francs.

Under all heads of war damage to persons and property, the total of claims lodged is well over 1,250,000. The largest number come from the Courtrai (centre of fighting region) where nearly a quarter of a million claims were filed To August 31, 1920, the total number of claims settled by all authorities and for all purposes was 74,714, representing a total amount of 1,893 million francs.

In West Flanders alone, 38,700 houses were destroyed and 8,000 damaged so as to be uninhabitable. In the rest of the country the respective figures were 25,000 and 3,500. Some 38,000 acres of land had also been rendered unworkable. Churches, town halls, schools, public offices, and other national buildings were down or damaged all over the country. The government plan in the restoration has been to help those that help themselves, by granting special financial help, and making good any local deficit.

Before a single brick could be laid, much preliminary work had to be done, this including restoration of communications, restarting of the water service, supply of temporary housing accommodation, clearing away of ruins, and preparing of ruined land for agriculture. To date two thirds of the agricultural lands destroyed have been restored. Concurrently with the execution of the preliminary works, thousands of houses and huts are being built, or have already been built.

The Minister of the Interior reports that the whole of the government domain, especially as regards communications, is approaching complete restoration and that industrial and commercial establishments are being gradually reformed. Owing to the complex nature of the matter, the restoration of private property, is proceeding more slowly.

Automobile Thieving

The American people are the most "lawed" and at the same time the most "lawless" people on earth, but in spite of the multiplicity of statutes, a little law now and then is not amiss, in fact we have to have it.

A certain number of "freak measures" gets through every state legislature because in such a body of men as assembles in Indianapolis during January of each odd year, there are always a few with a hobby—and they have to get it off their chest, regardless of how much it costs the taxpayers in time lost.

But there is one subject which is deserving of special consideration on the part of the legislature which will convene after Christmas. That is legislation to curb the automobile thieving, which has become such a common practice among the light-fingered gentry of the state.

Of course there are laws a plenty to deal with stealing, and automobile thieves can be properly handled under the existing statutes once they are caught but that's the difficulty—apprehending them.

The aim of any new legislation on this subject should be to make it more difficult for this brand of thief to operate. Senator John S. Alldredge seems to have a proposal which, if made into law, would go a long way towards solving the question, but even a better one may be suggested before the general assembly meets.

Senator Alldredge's proposed law would require filing with the county recorder a paper of conveyance, similar to a deed, on every automobile. In order to sell a machine a person would have to show his conveyance paper and file it with the recorder.

The belief of the framers of the bill is that such a law would prevent the sale of stolen automobiles and hence would remove the motive for stealing them.

This would be a long step in the right direction although it could not be expected to put an end to organized stealing of automobiles. It would not prevent the sale of stolen cars outside of Indiana, but dealers in adjoining states would soon become aware of the law here and would learn to demand conveyance papers when purchasing an Indiana machine.

Such a law would add another

burden to the automobile owner, already overburdened with legal restrictions, but surely no owner of a car would object to this slight technicality if he were being insured against theft.

Either the barrel bursts, the hunter tries to pull the gun through the fence after "him," "nozzle" first, or some other fool thing happens, and every day at this season a heavy toll is levied on the coterie who "didn't know it was loaded."

Every woman will have an opportunity to express her own personality in dress, according to a representative of the national ladies wear manufacturers, but there's little new about that because the backless, neckless short-skirted dresses have long since given them that chance.

Cass county thieves stole one hundred chickens and then displayed their forehandedness by appropriating a hundred bushels of corn for fattening purposes.

DIFFERENTIATED

Recently by riding all along an extensive inter-Reuben railway system twice, we found out the difference between a "limited" and a "local." The limited merely makes what stops there are, and the local makes all of them.

Ah! courtly groom of the vanquished years,
Beautiful bride of the days long fled,
Dust, but dust are your hopes and fears,

But I hang here, over your head,

MUST ADJUST ITS
MONEY MATTERS

Germany Will be Compelled to Regulate Currency or its Plight Will Resemble Russia

OPINION OF IRON KING

Hugo Stinnes Contends That Germany Must Instigate a Fight Against Socialization

By CARL D. GROAT

Berlin, (By Mail)—"Germany must regulate and adjust its currency and financial situation if it is to avoid conditions worse than Russia's."

This statement of Hugo Stinnes, coal and iron king, is one of his arguments in his fight against socialization of the German coal mines. Stinnes takes the position that, with Germany's finances in a muddled, almost bankrupt condition, socialization of the mines will not alter the financial structure topples, according to his theory. Germany is ruined forever. The entente can step in and take what it wants. And, socialization of the mines will not alter the general financial situation—except perhaps to make it worse.

He contends, further, that the two schemes proposed—total socialization or partial socialization with both capital and labor represented—will make for higher expenses and slower production.

Singling out the coal mines for socialization is according to the mining king, an impossible proposition. The whole national economy must be cleaned up and improved, and this singling out process would only mean a further wrench of the entire structure, he contends.

"The present national investigation into means of socialization of the mines," Stinnes told a group of industrial chieftains, "must take our whole economical situation into consideration."

"If we are unable to regulate our currency, we will be unable to buy any more grain. We need perhaps about 15,000,000,000 marks for foreign foods; to that amount must be added around 20,000,000,000 marks deficit in the post and railroad administration and burdens of the army of occupation. Against this we have only our labor. If we do not regulate our currency, worse conditions will come here than in Russia."

"Removal of the coal mining from the complex of our economic life would spell the ruin of our economy."

The industrialists adopted a resolution saying that full socialization of the mines would mean national death, and would ruin the workers' hopes for an improvement of their situation.

CABINET TO PLAN FOR
DEFENSE OF ENGLAND

Full Report of Dock Fire by Sinn Feiners Were Laid Before the Ministers

DETAILED MAPS FOUND

London, Nov. 30—Plans for the defense of England against Sinn Fein attacks were formed at the meeting of the British cabinet yesterday.

Full report of the dock fire in Liverpool Saturday night and the alleged insinuating efforts of the Sinn Feiners, were laid before the ministers. Indications that the officials will confer over the possibility of further efforts in London were given in the attendance of General Honwood, commissioner of police, and Sir Basil Thompson, of Scotland Yards.

Irish officials made no statements today but it is said that the attitude was that the Sinn Feiners were dissipating themselves in firing efforts.

Detailed maps of the disturbance in Liverpool were found in the possession of suspects arraigned today in Liverpool. The maps were marked to show where the fire occurred. The maps and other evidence indicated that the plans for the attack had been laid with great care.

One prisoner caught here, in attempting conflagrating near the Red Lion Market, was believed to have made important admission to the police.

ABOUT ANIMALS—AND "HUMANS"

The Darwinian theory of our origin is often the topic of considerable debate. Whether or not we "humans" descended from the ape does not worry us greatly. One thing we are quite sure of is that we all possess a sense of humor. We enjoy the witty writings about "humans" and animals and whatnot, screened in theatres throughout America in "Topics of the Day" films. Just to prove our contention that a sense of humor is found in all people—even as you and I—the Daily Republican presents some selections of witty wordings all about animals and "humans."

Battleship Fleet as a Christmas Present

By A. NEELY HALL
(Copyright by A. Neely Hall)

Make a fleet of toy battleships like the model in Fig. 1. It will not take long, because I have designed a model made of parts that can be cut out and assembled quickly. Having built the fleet, you will have lots of fun. Because the model is mounted on wheels, you can run it upon land as well as sail it upon water.

In Fig. 2 is a drawing of every part of the toy battleship, and in Figs. 3 to 8 you will find the same parts drawn to scale with dimensions marked upon them. If you build several ships, I would suggest that you make all of the parts for one boat, first, and then, using these for patterns, mark out and cut the hulls (A) for all the other boats, then the decks (B), then the masts (C), and so on. The work of cutting and assembling will be simplified if you follow this method. A piece of soft pine, cypress, or other soft wood will be easiest to shape. In marking out the hull, draw a centerline as shown in Fig. 3, and lay off the measurements either side of it, to get the sides alike. The upper deck (B, Fig. 4) extends three-quarters of the length of the hull, and it is of the same shape as that portion of the hull; therefore it can be marked out with the hull as a pattern. The holes shown along the edge of the deck (Fig. 4) are made to receive the guns of the secondary battery, the holes along the upper face are made to receive the masts, funnels, etc. The position of each part is indicated in Fig. 2.

The masts (C, Fig. 5) can be whittled or dowel-sticks of the given diameter can be used. The fighting-tops (D and E, Fig. 5) are wooden button molds. The larger one (D) must have its hole enlarged so it will slip over the mast, the smaller one (E) rests on top of the mast and is held in place with the nail F (Fig. 2) driven into the mast-top.

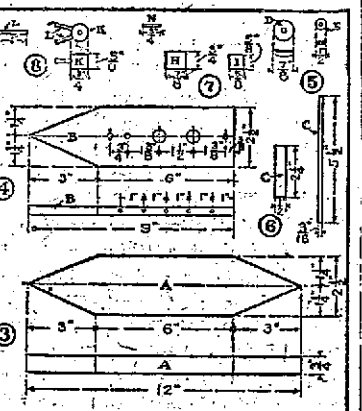

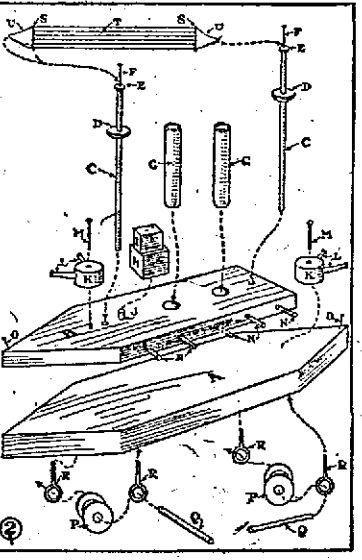

Fig. 6 shows a funnel (G). Use a dowel-stick if you can get one, otherwise whittle a stick to the given diameter. Bore out the top of each funnel if you wish.

There are two gun turrets (K, Fig. 2) and the size is shown in Fig. 8. Whittle the guns (L) of the shape and size shown in Fig. 8, and glue their ends in holes made in the sides of the turrets. Drill a small hole through the center of each turret through which to drive nail pivot M (Fig. 2).

The secondary battery guns (N, Fig. 2) are the ends of burnt matches. Fig. 8 shows the length.

Cut the fore-castle blocks H and I (Fig. 2) square, of the dimensions given in Fig. 7, nail them together, and fasten to the deck with the peg J (Fig. 2).

The spool wheels (P, Fig. 2) have stick axles (Q) cut to fit snugly in their holes, and the axle ends are supported by screw-eyes R, which are screwed into the hull. Start holes for the screw-eyes with an awl, screw the screw-eyes into the holes, and then drive the axles through the screw-eyes and spools.

The wireless telegraph aerial is suspended between the mast tops (Fig. 2). Use toothpicks for spreaders S, thread for wire strands T and end loops U.

When the toy battleships have been assembled, give them a coat of paint.

SPICELAND HERE FRIDAY
Academy Teams Will Play Local High School Teams

The Rushville high school will attempt to stage a "come back" Friday night when the Spiceland Academy comes here for a game. The local high school will probably be handicapped with the absence of Emerson Headlee, the center, but it is expected that the Academy team will be taken into camp, as they were handed a good drubbing on their own floor two weeks ago. The second teams of the two schools will play a curtain raiser, and in this contest, a real game will be seen, as the Spiceland team played the Rushville team to a standstill the first half at Spiceland. Headlee, who was injured on the cement floor at Milroy, will probably be out of the game for several weeks, on account of a bruised foot.

1ST GAME WITH FAIRVIEW
Odd Fellows Team Opens Season on Saturday Night

The Fairview Athletic Club will meet the Cambridge City Cigar Company's team at Fairview Wednesday night, and a good game is expected. Last Friday night the Fairview team went to Cambridge City and defeated the fast independent team of that place by the score of 39 to 29. Fairview also has arranged a game for the Odd Fellows team of this city, which will be played at Fairview on the night of Saturday, December 4. This will be the opening game for the newly organized Rushville team.

Arlington to Have Football Team Again Next Fall

The Arlington A C Football team which closed a successful season Sunday, will again be in the field next fall with just as good a team, if not better, than the one used this year, according to Coach Ross Hutchinson. The game last Sunday, when Shelbyville was defeated 2 to 0 in a sensational game, was attended by over 600 fans from all over the county, and interest was never better in football than it was during this season.

Amusements

"Passers By" Again Tonight

The chances are that those who went to the Mystic Theatre yesterday and saw J. Stuart Blackton's Pathe production of C. Haddon Chambers' play "Passers By," are still thinking about it. Anything that gets under the skin as does this powerful photoplay, cannot avoid being the talk of the town for the proverbial nine days.

Herbert Rawlinson invests the leading role of Peter Waverton, the wealthy bachelor who entertained the passer by, with tenderness and understanding. He is given the support of three of the best character actors it has been our good fortune to see in a long time. These are Tom Lewis as the kindly caddy; William J. Ferguson as the very dignified valet, and Dick Lee as the vagabond.

The feminine end of the cast is well upheld by Leila Valentine as Waverton's old love; Ellen Cassidy as the new, and Pauline Coffey as the sister. Charles Stuart Blackton the six-year-old son of the producer, brought forth ohs and ahs of delight from the audience.

It is seldom a picture with the quaint charm, the unique story and the beauty of theme and the artistry of treatment of "Passers By" passes by our way. Don't let opportunity to see it pass by. It remains at the Mystic Theater today only.

William J. Ferguson, who plays the role of "Pine," the valet in "Passers By," was one of those who witnessed the assassination of Abraham Lincoln in Ford's Theatre.

Mr. Ferguson is nearly seventy years old, and at the time of the tragedy he was a call boy in the old Ford Theatre. (That was his humble beginning in the theatre. At the time Mr. Blackton induced him to play the important role of "Pine" Mr. Ferguson was playing a leading part in the musical comedy success of the season, "The Little Whopper.")

The "Vice of Fools"

"The Vice of Fools," an Alice Joyce special production which will be shown at the Princess theater for the last time today. Two girls and two men—all moving in fashionable society—are the principal characters.

Only one of the four, Marion Rogers, acted by Miss Joyce, stands out as a figure of simple dignity and strength. The others are either weak-willed and vacillating or frivolous and empty-headed or idly vicious. And for a time the alliance of the three threatens to get the better of the girl.

How Marion struggles to save the man she loves from the penalty of his foolish infatuation for a society butterfly forms the theme of the play. Her strength does not stop her from making one error—that of throwing the two together—and the rest of the play is taken up with the retrieving of that blunder.

Miss Joyce makes the woman a commanding and appealing figure. She is at her best, emotionally and torially, as she meets the crises. She is almost felled by a blow dealt her, tragically, by the giddy debutant but her unswerving devotion, in the face of seemingly insurmountable

At the lower left a glass bowl supports a puff holding a doll's head and at the right a net-covered jar enthrones a Jap baby.

STATE SCHOOLS ARE IN NEED OF MONEY

Purdue, Indiana and State Normal Face a Crisis Unless Appropriation is Made

A MEETING HELD LAST NIGHT

(By United Press)
Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 30.—Indiana's three educational institutions, Purdue and Indiana universities and the State Normal school, are in serious financial straits because of greatly increased cost of everything and the comparatively slight increase in their incomes. This fact was brought out last night at dinner here when the situation of the three institutions was put up several hundred prominent Indiana citizens.

Unless considerably more financial support is given to all three institutions, the number of students have to be limited next year or everything will have to be done on a curtail expenses, it was stated.

Presidents W. E. Stonem, Purdue; W. L. Bryan, Indiana; W. W. Parsons, State Normal, present views on their institutions and L. Hines, state superintendent of public instructions, acted as toastmaster. Mrs. D. C. Brown and L. Huesman, Indianapolis; S. M. Kerner, Anderson; Elwood Haynes, Kokomo and Hence Orme, Marion county farmer, were the other speakers.

All three institutions will press their cases to the legislature at coming session where relief will sought.

For Over Seven Years

Back in the early part of 1913 this business was organized and started in a small frame building. Then came a move into larger quarters on account of increased patronage.

TODAY

We occupy our own plant. It is the third place we have occupied since our organization. Our patronage speaks for itself. Year after year we have expanded and added new equipment, which makes our plant today one of the finest in the state.

WE INVITE INSPECTION

Come, see for yourself, the different departments in operation. Work is taken care of in Rushville, and is not trusted to some cleaner in an out of town plant. Because of the trust people have placed in us, is only one reason why our plant has so successfully existed under the same management for over seven years.

This plant is the only plant in Rush County that is entitled to the name of "Master Cleaners."

WHO WILL BE NEXT QUEEN IS A PUZZLE

This is Question That Every Woman
and Newspaper in England
Is Trying to Solve

PRINCE OF WALES DIFFERENT

One of Main Qualifications Will be
Substantial Bank Roll For Royal
House is Not Wealthy

By P. M. SARE

London, Nov. 10. (By Mail).—
Who is going to be the next Queen of England?

This is the puzzle that certainly every woman and most of the newspapers and male folk in England are trying to solve.

For the first time since the marimonial experiments of bluff King
Henry the Eighth, there is an excellent chance of a "Commoner" mounting the throne of England, and hordes of matchmaking mammas, to say nothing of hundreds of blushing debutantes, who six years ago would have admitted themselves ruled out of the contest, realize that the Imperial Crown is well within their grasp, plus a very presentable
Prince Charming, if they can manage to rope in the Prince of Wales.

Among the many social upheavals caused by the war not the least striking is the difference it has made to the Prince of Wales. Without a world war, he would certainly have been married—according to plan, and probably before now—to some
German, Russian or other princess.
He might have been given a choice of two or three, but his list for selection would have been strictly limited. But with the wiping out of the Russian royal family and the total eclipse of the German and Austrian dynasties, he has been able to call for a pack of cards for himself and claim a-fresh deal.

In fact there are only four princesses of suitable age left in Europe. They are the Italian Princesses Yolanda and Mafalda, Marie of Rumania and Margaret of Denmark.
The Italian candidates are Catholics
perhaps not an insuperable obstacle, but anyway the Italian throne is not regarded as too stable just now, a consideration which will weigh very heavy when the final decision is taken by the Powers that arrange royal marriages. The Danish Princess Margaret is a prime favorite of Queen-Mother Alexandra's but there is no indication that the Prince has any views in that direction, while the exponents of High Policy cannot see any advantage to Britain in an alliance with poor little bankrupt
Rumania.

Were King Albert's daughter five or six years older, High Policy would doubtless win and an Anglo-Belgian alliance consummated, but little Princess Marie is only fourteen, and a Prince of Wales cannot wait for her to grow up. Three English princesses are available, two Teck princesses and Maud, younger daughter of the late Duke of Fife, but the Tecks have little wealth or prestige, while the greater part of the Fife fortune went with the title to the elder daughter, Princess Alexandra, who married Prince Arthur of Connaught.

Hence the "matchmakers" have turned to the "Old Nobility" of England and right here the said Old Nobility must be kicking itself badly over the fact that it hasn't more marriageable daughters to offer. Taking the three highest ranks, twenty eight dukes can only provide fourteen daughters of suitable age, forty-two marquises but fifteen and 225 earls a paltry thirty-seven eligible candidates. Three-quarters of these would be automatically ruled out through lack of fortune, personal looks or on account of entanglements, divorcees, etc., of their parents or near relations, for no scandal must be raked up against the future Queen of England, nor can "dubois" relatives be tolerated.

Advocates of Anglo-American friendship are rooting for an American bride, and the Prince has doubtless seen plenty of suitable candidates over here, but the wish of the man-in-the-street undoubtedly is for "Our Young Man" to make an English-marriage. So far, however no indication of his choice has been given by the Prince himself, not even the most confirmed matchmaker having detected him showing undue partiality for any particular person.

There are no very rigid Court rules on the subject in England, the consent of the King being sufficient to satisfy etiquette, and the consent of Parliament, which has to be obtained by the heir to the Throne
in any even royal or otherwise.
Parliament would readily consent to

Shorty drops in on New York!

HERE WE ARE, PETE!

New York
Wednesday night

Camped once more in the plumb-centre of our old stamping grounds—rubbing elbows with the roaring racket and running flush into more electric displays, blazing posters and smashing signs that sound the joys of Camel Cigarettes than you'd ever believe could be jammed into one town!

When I hit Broadway this p. m. I'd said the Reynolds folks had transplanted "Camel City" right up here!

It seems like all New Yorkers have adopted
Camels as their own personal brand! And, Pete, since this is the original speed town it's only what you expect when you see 'em carry a package of Camels in each coat pocket. If their right hand is busy, they dig out their left hand deck—they just won't lose time getting a Camel lighted!
That's the gait around here, old thoxobred!

And, Peter, the New Yorker has his own A-1 pet reason why he's so keen for Camels. For instance, Doc Marshall will bet his car on Camels quality against any cigarette in the world! Bill James says to me—"Shorty, there never was mild, mellow body like Camels." And, as for Dan Boggs—he spills it that Camels are the only cigarette free from any unpleasant cigarette aftertaste or ciga-retty odor! And, he knows! Frank Frazer will tell you it's Camels wonderful Turkish and Domestic blend! And all of them are right!

And, Pete, old proof-of-the-pudding—you tell
'em that Missouri hasn't anything on little old
New York when it comes to that "show me" stuff,
on cigarettes or anything else!

Sincerely

Shorty

a non-royal bride, and it is generally believed that King George and Queen Mary are desirous of allowing the young prince to choose for himself.

Equally with the Prince of Wales,
Princess Mary stands a fine chance of being permitted to take a non-royal husband, for there are no eligible princes of her own age left in Europe. The younger princes of England may profit similarly.

One of the main qualifications for a non-royal Princess of Wales, or non-royal husband for Princess Mary, will be a substantial bank-roll, for the British royal house is not wealthy.

Answer These Important Questions

Have you ever had cause to doubt that you enjoy perfect vision? Do your eyes feel sore after a spell of close work—aching, smarting, or feeling as if sand or grit was lodged behind the lids

Do you ever, while reading find that the print suddenly "goes misty" and confused? Is it necessary for you to hold your book or newspaper further away from the eyes than formerly—or do you need a stronger light? Do you find that reading or sewing for an extra hour or two causes headaches?

If you have noticed any of these peculiarities with your eyes you should have them carefully examined. Call and see us at once.

Not Merely "Self Starting"

THE Matthews "Automatic

from the human brain in the recharging of the storage batteries. Long before they are exhausted to the danger point the "Automatic Caretaker" of its own accord automatically starts the engine recharging the batteries. And it automatically stops recharging when the batteries are full. A "self-starting" plant depends on some one's memory. The "Auto-

FOR SALE THE ABERCROMBIE FARM

In order to divide up the Theodore Abercrombie estate among the heirs, the farm, known as the

adjoining Rushville at the city limits on the north and consisting of 284 acres, more or less, is now offered for sale at private sale.

This is one of the best farms in Rush County, most of it having been in the family for fifty years and has been well taken care of and not rented.

It is capable of division into two complete and separate farms—each with tenant houses, barns and other first class improvements. That part known as the "East Place" lies on the east side of Main street, and comprises about one hundred and thirty-one acres, and that portion known as the "West Place" lies on the west side of Main Street, and consists of about one hundred and fifty-three acres. Both farms extend down to Eleventh street.

For farming purposes there are no better farms in Rush County than these, but they are further valuable because they lie right at the limits of the city on the north and adjacent to Rushville's finest residence section.

Both farms are capable of sub-division into valuable city lots. Part of the farm has already been laid off into city lots, taken into the city and fine residences built upon it.

As the L. E. & W. R. R. bounds the farm on the west, and the Pennsylvania R. R. intersects a portion of the farm on the east, several fine factory sites are available.

This land will be offered for sale as a whole or as two separate farms. Possession will be given on or before March first, 1921.

DIAMOND IMPORTS HAVE DOUBLED

The Value of 1920 Imports Was Almost $89,000,000 According to Records Shown

U. S. CHIEF CONSUMER

Almost 90 Percent of The Gems Received Here Comes From The South African Mines

Imports of diamonds into the United States during the fiscal year 1920 were nearly double those of the previous year and more than three times the 1918 total, according to figures given by the National Bank of Commerce, in New York. The value of the 1920 imports given by the 89 millions of dollars, the bank shows in the December number of its magazine, Commerce Monthly.

"The United States, is, and has been for many years, the chief consumer of diamonds and practically the entire production of the better class of stones finds its market in this country," says Commerce Monthly. "Formerly, the American demand was altogether for the cut stones, but in the last two decades a diamond cutting industry of considerable importance has been established in New York City.

"Imports of uncut diamonds into the United States have greatly increased since the beginning of the war. In the round shapes American cut diamonds are considered superior to stones finished in Europe and are in almost universal demand by the retail trade in the United States.

The diamond market is at present the most completely controlled of all commodity markets, the system of control having been greatly strengthened within the past two years. More than 90 per cent of the world's present supply of diamonds comes from the mines of South Africa. These mines after years of conflict, have been united and their combined output is now marketed by the diamond syndicate of London.

"The value of diamonds has increased almost without a break since the beginning of control. Following the outbreak of war the South African mines were not operated for a number of months. Later however, a stimulated demand for diamonds appeared, caused by the buying of persons in the United States to whom the war had brought prosperity and by the chaotic conditions in Europe which led many people to exchange their worldly goods for diamonds, a commodity easy to conceal and relatively free from depreciation.

"During this period of buying, prices for certain grades went much above those set by the diamond syndicate. Since 1919, although the demand for diamonds has been the largest in history, production has been held down, due, it is commonly believed, to the threatened exhaustion of some of the mines. The diamond syndicate has recently announced that in keeping with its policy in the past, production will be reduced if necessary to maintain its price levels."

TESTIFIES THAT THE PAY ROLL WAS PADDED

Willis Cash Charges Shipping Board Before Walsh Committee Investigating Operators

FORMERLY AN AUDITOR

New York, Nov. 30.—That the pay rolls were padded and that the government made use of private contracts, were the charges made today by Willis Cash, formerly travelling auditor for shipping board, testifying before the Walsh committee investigating the operations of the shipping board.

While auditing the accounts of the Groton Iron Works, of Connecticut Cash testified that 3,000 errors were found in the payroll. It was found that one man held four and five positions simultaneously which each would have required 40 to 50 hours a week.

At the Alexandria, West Virginia, ship yards, several loads of lumber which were to have been used by the shipping board, were found to have been turned over to subsidiary companies for use in building houses. J. M. Hildreth, vice-president of the Belmont Packing Company, of New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, testified that bids made by his company were from 20 to 25 percent lower than the next highest bid but were rejected.

CALLS MEETING OF DIRECTORS DEC. 3

Indiana League of Women Voters to Discuss Legislation to Endorse in Next Session

SUPPORT INFANCY BILL

State League Has Committees at Work on All Various Lines of Legislation

Mrs. A. H. Beardsley, president of the Indiana League of Women Voters with headquarters at Elkhart, Indiana, has called a meeting of the twenty-eight directors at Indianapolis December 3rd to discuss and to decide upon the legislation which the League will endorse and lobby for in the next session of Congress and the State Legislature convening in January.

The National League of Women Voters, made up of the thirty-six states having state organization, is supporting the Sheppard-Towner Maternity and Infancy Bill which is to come up early in the December session of Congress, also the Smith Towner and Kenyon Educational Bills, the Fess Vocational Bill, and the Naturalization Bill presented at the last Congress and which the League desires amended to cover certain points relating to women.

The local organizations throughout the State are already active in their campaign for the Maternity and Infancy Bill and are having observed in the churches Sunday December 5th as Mother and Child Day.

While the legislative program for Indiana has not been definitely decided upon, it is understood that the League will support such measures as child welfare; compulsory school attendance; permanent women and children's department of the Industrial Board with a woman at its head; measures to ameliorate adult illiteracy and the Beardsley amendment to the state constitution requiring full citizenship of either man or woman before granting the privilege of suffrage. The President of the League has received a large number of requests for support of bills to be introduced by various other organizations and to act upon these petitions is the main purpose of the directors' meeting.

The State League has committees at work on all of the various lines of legislation to which it is committed and recommendations from the following committees are to be submitted to the Directors: Child Welfare, Mrs. Ella B. Kehrer of Anderson; Chairman; Education, Miss Lillian G. Berry of Indiana University of Bloomington; Women in Industry, Mrs. Luella Cox of the State Industrial Board; Legal Status of Women, Mrs. Carrina Warrington, lawyer of Ft. Wayne; Social Hygiene, Dr. Adah McMahan, LaFayette.

At the meeting of the National Directors in New York last week Indiana was reported as the banner State for the Fourth Region which includes Michigan, Ohio, Kentucky, West Virginia, Indiana, Illinois and Wisconsin.

WILSON MAY ASK REVISION OF LAW

White House Officials State President Would Sign Bill for Revision of Revenue Act

REPUBLICANS OPPOST ACT

Believe That The Short Session of Congress Would be too Brief to Undertake Task

Washington, Nov. 30—President Wilson in his forthcoming message to congress, may ask for immediate revision of the revenue law, despite the decision of the republican leaders to postpone action on this law until after March 4, it was indicated at the White House.

White House officials stated that the president would sign any bill now which would revise the law and they also pointed out that the president has twice before decided for the revision of the tax law. Congress failed to act on either suggestion.

Republican leaders in the house and senate believe that the short session of congress would be too brief for the revision of the tax law and they are disinclined to take up the measure until after President Wilson has left his office.

It was reflected in a statement of the Secretary of State Houston, President Wilson believed in the redistribution of taxation rather than in any attempt to lower them.

It was also understood that the excess profit tax should now be repealed. It was also pointed out that some amendment to the tariff law might not be objected to by the president.

Wilson is proceeding in the writing of his message but it is not yet completed. Secretary Tumulty and the president conferred today concerning the message.
